

Sites that look sharp, load fast, and hold up in QA.

We build new sites, redesign tired ones, and run performance and QA before they go live — not just until they look done.

English or Spanish — we work in the language your customers feel most comfortable in.

Two kinds of teams. The same meticulous craft.

Local businesses

People find you on a phone. If the site is slow, confusing, or hard to contact, they call someone else.

Startups

Launch is not a mockup. You need a clear product story, performance you can stand behind, and QA before you ship.

What we do

Four products, used together or on their own.

Website build

New sites from a clear brief: structure, design, and a launch that actually works.

- Responsive website and core pages
- UI design and contact forms
- Basic SEO and analytics setup
- Responsive QA and launch preparation

Design improvement

UI and layout that look current, read clearly, and match how people actually use the site.

- UI refresh on agreed pages
- Mobile-first layout pass
- Clearer hierarchy, CTAs, and trust cues
- Consistent components

Performance & SEO

Faster pages, cleaner markup, and the basics that help search and Core Web Vitals.

- Performance audit and Core Web Vitals
- Image, font, and script cleanup
- On-page SEO and metadata
- Accessibility baseline and recheck

Web QA

Cross-browser, responsive, and functional checks so launch is not a surprise.

- Agreed device and browser pass
- Functional, form, and responsive checks
- Broken-link and 404 sweep
- Written bug list with severity and repro

How we work

A clear path from first conversation to a site you can stand behind.

01

Discover

Goals, audience, current site, and what “done” means for this launch.

02

Design

Structure and visuals that match the brand — your voice stays yours.

03

Build

Clean, responsive implementation with performance in mind from the first pass.

04

QA

We break it on purpose: phones, browsers, forms, and real user paths.

05

Launch

Go-live, a punch list, and a handoff you can maintain or keep iterating with us.

To start, send a short brief

- Whether you are a local business or a startup
- What you need: build, redesign, performance / SEO, or QA
- Your current site URL (optional)
- Timeline and what “done” looks like for this launch

Why Pixel-Craft

- Sites that look great, feel effortless, and work hard for the business
- Thoughtful design, faster performance, and a clear path to conversion
- English or Spanish — the language your customers prefer

Get your site through review before launch.

Tell us what you're building and we'll tell you what it needs.
